Travel Camp Unit Leader

Overview

The Travel Camp Unit Leader must be a multi-talented, service-oriented individual with a strong desire to provide surf and ocean safety instruction to campers on a travel adventure. Our program attracts teens from all over the world that have the desire to learn how to surf and experience the local culture unique to California and Costa Rica. The applicant must have a passion for marine stewardship, teaching, inspiring youth, and surfing. This position requires the candidate to work as part of a team to inspire, instruct, and provide care to a group of travel campers. Surf instruction experience is not necessary. Candidates will go through our surf instructor training and certification program at no cost.

The Unit Leader will be responsible for the implementation of all daily activities and will perform a variety of administrative duties. This role requires a detail oriented team player with the ability to see multiple concurrent tasks through to completion. The Unit Leader must provide leadership, guidance and feedback to all team members. Teamwork and communication are critical; qualified candidates will provide feedback to all staff and partners at both our headquarters in North Carolina and on location. Last but not least, the Unit Leader must ensure all staff and campers stay safe while having an awesome and life enriching experience. This position reports to the Program Coordinator.
